Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Final Office Action

Acknowledgement is made of the response filed on 11/17/2003. Claims 1-11, 17, 26-51 are pending. No claim is allowed at present time. Arguments were fully considered but were found persuasive in part therefore all the claims, which were withdrawn from consideration, are now included with the examined claims. However, arguments regarding the obvious rejection were not persuasive therefore, 103 rejections are maintained, others are withdrawn.

Examiner disagrees with the arguments that prior art teaches disinfectant and not the sterilizing solution and prior art does not teach that a sterilizing solution is capable of killing spores. Note, that property is in the aqueous solution of the percarboxylic acid, which was not recognized but was there. Furthermore, in the present disclosure all examples show the disinfectant effect on different bacteria and not on spores.

Claims 1-11, 17 and 26-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lokkesmoe et al. (US Patent 5,674,538) and Huber, Arthur Elmer (US Patent 4,013,581).

When one would prepare a solution of dipercarboxylic acid s solid is supposed to be added to prepare an aqueous solution. Once the solution is prepared the activity of the solution is expected to be the same, no matter how it is prepared.

Therefore, in absence of any criticality or unexpected results instant invention of method of making a solution and using the solution of one or more dipercarboxylic acid would have been obvious because prior art teaches the aqueous solution and their use of these dipercarboxylic acids.

In the light of the forgoing discussion, the Examiner's ultimate legal conclusion is that the subject matter defined by the instant claims would have been obvious within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
